Dear Parents and Carers

Instrumental Tuition at Beaminster School 2022-23

There are many opportunities for music making at Beaminster School which includes learning an instrument outside of the classroom with a team of highly trained and experienced teachers, who deliver a programme of lessons covering a wide range of instruments.

These peripatetic music staff work on a private basis, with lessons taking place here in school. The lessons are organised on a rotating timetable when the teacher is in school so that, wherever possible, students do not miss the same curriculum lessons each week, and there is an expectation that all work missed will be completed as homework.

Fees are set by the teachers but, in all cases, the staff have made concessions for us and the amount you pay will be fair and in line with current practice across the area.

If you wish to arrange lessons for your child, please contact the teacher direct who will advise you regarding costs and buying or hiring an instrument if you do not already have one. We have worked hard to get the peripatetic team back into school as soon as possible and have put additional protocols in place to ensure safety in the practice rooms.

Please return the attached slip below to Mr Smith once you have arranged lessons with one of our private teachers. We require your signature as consent to allow pupils to be released from timetabled lessons to attend instrumental tuition. If your child has music lessons outside of school or can play an instrument already, I would be grateful if you could email me details on asmith2@beaminster.dorset.sch.uk

Yours faithfully

Mr Andrew Smith
